

Understanding the Basics of BioTE®

History

BioTE® Hormone Pellet Therapy is based on 34 years of research and relies on data and studies dating back as early as 1939, making this modality of therapy the longest-studied form of bio-identical hormone replacement therapy. Subcutaneous pellet therapy is the only form of HRT that ensures patient compliance 100% of the time, thus resulting in superior patient results.

Compounding Pharmacies

In conjunction with FDA Certified Compounding Facilities, BioTE® has created a standardized product allowing only a 3 percent variance in the yield of compounded pellets that are used in the BioTE® Method of hormone replacement therapy. All hormone pellets are tested for eight different property values by a third party independent lab, ensuring that the levels of the drug are consistent, giving medical practitioners 100% confidence in the implanted drug.

Dosing

Certified BioTE® Providers utilize specific blood tests that are entered into the BioTE® proprietary dosing site that produces over 4 million variations of individualized doses to ensure that practitioners are prescribing appropriate protocols for optimal results in hormone replacement therapy.

Thyroid Function

The BioTE® Method recognizes the importance of proper thyroid function as it relates to overall hormone balance. BioTE® is the only hormone pellet therapy company that trains and instructs practitioners on how to incorporate medically advanced thyroid treatment protocols into comprehensive hormone balance.

A-D-K Advantage

The BioTE® Method is the only hormone replacement therapy that recognizes and incorporates a propriety or customized blend of Vitamins A, D and K, ensuring that patients will experience the maximum benefit of their hormone pellet therapy.

Comprehensive Balance Using Nutraceutical Optimization

For patients to become completely hormonally balanced, the BioTE® Method recommends additional nutraceuticals based upon the patient's individualized biochemical needs. Our optimizers include DIM (diindolylmethane), a proprietary blend of Iodine (BioTE® Iodine Plus), and Oil of Primrose.

The BioTE® Network of Certified practitioners consists of some of the most respected and highly sought after doctors, nurse practitioners and physician assistants across the United States who have successfully treated tens of thousands of patients using the BioTE® Method. The BioTE® Medical Advisory board consists of world renowned experts and authors including Dr. Neal Rouzier, Dr. Dereck Desilva, and founder of BioTE Medical, Dr. Gary Donovitz. The BioTE® Method consistently gains more notoriety in the medical community through our constant educational message and commitment to helping medical practitioners, as well as their patients begin to live healthier, happier lives through optimal hormone balance.
